

TRANSFORMATION TO LEADERSHIP

Effective Police Supervision

Career Path Development for the New Supervisor

Law enforcement organizations are successful because of the solid management foundation prepared by predecessors. The leader that recognizes the need to develop successful followers is the one that understands the critical importance of first line supervisors.

This course focuses on the role and function of the first-line supervisor in criminal justice agencies. A hybrid learning experience, participants will meet for traditional classroom instruction, on-line modules and develop a reflective writing artifact.

Transformation to Leadership is comprised of the following topics:

- Supervision—Filling the Toolbox
- Community- and Problem-Oriented Policing
- Media Relations
- Interpersonal Communications
- Motivation
- Leadership
- Organizational Change
- Coaching, Counseling and Mentoring
- Team Building
- Organizational Change
- Labor Relations
- Performance Appraisal
- Discipline
- Supervising Difficult Employees
- Supervising Special Populations
- Tactical Operations
- Police Training
